Tenerife all-inclusive: Canary sunshine made easy

Tenerife is the winter-sun workhorse that still feels like a proper holiday. All-inclusive done well means you stop doing mental maths at the bar — here's how we pick the right corner of the island.

> Your protection: All holidays booked with us are protected by Travel by Inspire's ABTA, ATOL and IATA memberships. ATOL 11183 · ABTA L4341.

When to go

Tenerife is a year-round destination. Winter delivers the famous "escape the grey" sunshine; spring and autumn are ideal for walking and Teide; midsummer is hottest and busiest in the southern resorts. If school holidays dictate your dates, book early — the better four-star all-inclusives go quickly for Easter and summer.

Where to stay

For classic all-inclusive weeks we usually look at:

- Costa Adeje — smarter resorts, nicer beaches, easy evenings out if you want a change from the hotel.
- Los Cristianos — slightly quieter harbour feel, good for couples and relaxed families.
- Playa de las Américas — livelier; choose your hotel carefully if you want calm nights.
- Puerto de Santiago / Los Gigantes — dramatic cliffs and sunsets; fewer "strip" distractions.

Not every "all-inclusive" is equal. We check what's actually included (à la carte, snacks, branded drinks) and read recent guest notes on noise and food variety before we recommend.

Top things to do

- Mount Teide National Park — cable car views above the clouds
- A boat trip for dolphins or simply to see Los Gigantes from the water
- Siam Park if you're travelling with older kids or teens
- An evening in La Laguna or dinner in a local guachinche if you want a break from buffet nights
- Beach and pool days with a book and no agenda

Practical tips

- Atlantic water is cooler than the Med — great for a dip, bracing for long swims.

- A hire car for one or two days unlocks the best scenery; otherwise transfers and taxis cover resort life.
- Pack layers for Teide: it’s properly cold at the top even when the beach is warm.
- Tell us if you want quiet, entertainment, or a bit of both — Tenerife has all three.

Share your dates, party size and must-haves. Aaron will compare a shortlist of protected all-inclusive options and explain the differences in plain English.

Whether it’s a January week of sunshine or an August family holiday, we’ll keep the shortlist honest and the protection clear.

> Tickets and extras: Teide trips, boat excursions, Siam Park tickets and transfers can be arranged as part of your Tenerife package. Mention what you’d like included when you get in touch.
>
> Get a free personalised quote: https://cuxtonholidays.co.uk/get-a-quote?destination=Tenerife%20all-inclusive

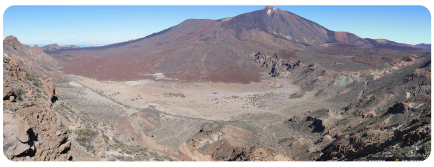

Photo credits

- Hero: Pepelopex · Wikimedia Commons (CC BY-SA 3.0)
- Gallery 1: Ingo Mehling · Wikimedia Commons (CC BY-SA 4.0)
- Gallery 2: Diego Delso · Wikimedia Commons (CC BY-SA 3.0)
- Gallery 3: Wouter Hagens · Wikimedia Commons (CC BY-SA 4.0)

FAQs

South or north Tenerife?

Most all-inclusives sit in the south (Costa Adeje, Los Cristianos) for sunshine. The north is greener — better for touring.

Good in winter?

Yes — that’s why UK travellers love it from November to March.

Excursions on all-inclusive?

Absolutely. Teide, Masca or a catamaran day sits nicely alongside resort time.

Couples and families?

Both. We’ll filter adults-oriented or family hotels depending on who’s travelling.
